CALIFORNIA INVENTOR GETS RUBBER FROM MILKWEED

Latex, the "cream" skimmed from the milk

Rubber that is resistant to fire, alcohol and chemicals has been developed by William A. Sharpe, well-known California inventor, and it is produced from nothing more mysterious than the wild milkweed plant. He already has built a small pilot plant at Alhambra, Cal., which has produced hundreds of pounds of rubber. The milkweed plant can be grown and the milk converted into rubber within four months. Sharpe says that a cultivated variety could yield 35 tons of the weed per acre and that this amount would produce 3,500 pounds of rubber.

MacARTHUR, FACING RENEWED ATTACK, SENDS F.D. GREETING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 — Faced with what the war department termed "resumption of a large scale offensive," Gen. Douglas MacArthur's valiant Philippine defenders nevertheless took time out today to send greetings and a prayer to President Roosevelt on his 60th birthday.

Indicating the valor of the gallant American-Philippine forces, the birthday message was dispatched to Mr. Roosevelt despite the fact that the Japanese appeared to be making wide preparations for a final all-out offensive designed to wipe out the last vestiges of resistance on the islands.

Gen. MacArthur's message read:

"Today, January 30, the anniversary of your birth, smoke-begrimed men covered with the marks of battle, rise from the

NEW USE OF ICE FOR OPERATIONS GAINS SUPPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 — What may prove one of the most important contributions in modern medical history—a type of operative technique which may save thousands of lives of soldiers wounded on the battlefield and civilians injured in air raids—is being perfected at City hospital, the New York Journal-American said today in a copyrighted story.

The story added:

By means of this technique, so successful that it is being adopted in hospitals throughout the United States, emergency operations now are performed on an extremity of the body without anesthesia such as ether, gas-oxygen or novocaine.

The technique embraces use of a tourniquet to stop circulation of the blood, and refrigeration at 40 degrees fahrenheit to act as an anesthetic.

A patient will eat a hearty meal.

fox holes of Bataan and the batteries of Corregidor to pray fervently that God may bless you immeasurably the President of the United States."

The terse news from Bataan, however, indicated that the long-awaited Japanese offensive to crush the small but hard-hitting defending army is imminent.

Fresh Troops Ready

"The arrival of fresh Japanese troops at the front and movements behind the line indicate preparations by the enemy for resumption of a large scale offensive," the war department said.

Yesterday MacArthur's sharp shooting artillerymen broke up strong infantry attacks on the defenders' right and left flanks. It was the first major action by the Japanese since the American forces routed the invaders in a smashing counter attack last Sunday.

Meanwhile the axis nations felt the fury of American military might today as United States land, sea and air forces smashed at the enemy from the Atlantic coast to the far reaches of the Pacific.

Further unofficial proof came from a Navy spokesman who said that a navy pilot officer flashed back to his headquarters the message: "Sighted sub, sank same."

In the same communiqué, the Navy disclosed that marine artillerymen damaged one of two Japanese subs which appeared suddenly off Midway island to shell the mid-Pacific outpost.

Another announcement from west coast headquarters revealed that a "presumably hostile" U-boat had been sighted and attacked off the California coast. The sub was located by an army patrol plane, and shortly "depth charges were dropped in the area by navy planes," the announcement revealed. There was no "result immediately evident" the Navy said, but air and surface patrol craft searched the area "for several hours with no further report of hostile vessels sighted."

MRS. ADOLPHUS PEARCE INJURED IN GAS BLAST

Mrs. Adolphus Pearce, 213 West Corwin street, was painfully burned about the face and right arm Thursday when visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sowers and family of Dennison avenue, Columbus. Mrs. Pearce suffered first degree burns in an explosion of an accumulation of gas in the range of the Sowers home.

The U. S. Navy department had confirmed attacks on 11 American or United Nations ships, with sinking of 10.

The submarine of a Captain Kals "excelled in these successes," said the communiqué.

(Editor's Note)—The Nazi propaganda machine seems to be getting mixed up in its own claims. Last Saturday, a special announcement from Adolf Hitler's headquarters stated that German submarines operating off the east coast of the United States had sunk 30 ships.

Total sinkings to date accounted for 74,000 tons of United Nations shipping, said the communiqué.

Advanced Training For Combat Duty Provided

By ROBERT G. NIXON
WITH THE A.E.F. IN NORTHERN IRELAND, Jan. 30—American doughboys, shoulder to shoulder with their British comrades, today took up the task of joint defense of northern Ireland against a possible German spring invasion.

For the immediate present, they were placed on guard against Nazi parachutists and fifth columnists who it is believed may attempt to filter into the American base camp established here for purposes of sabotage and espionage.

Sentries on guard duty at all entrances to the huge encampment were instructed to admit no unauthorized persons to the grounds. Reports of parachute landings in Eire have been received frequently in recent weeks, and in addition fifth columnists are believed active in northern Ireland.

Belfast authorities today ordered a roundup of all suspected members of the illegal and banned Irish Republican army in the belief some may be acting as Nazis spies.

While the first job of the newly-landed expeditionary force was to buttress northern Ireland against attempted invasion, training was begun to convert this area of the United Kingdom into a vast reservoir of trained American manpower for future offensive action against Hitler's legions in Nazi-occupied Europe.

UNCLE SAM WILL NEED SERVICES OF MANY WOMEN

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30 — America's present-day war effort ultimately will require the services of between 16,000,000 and 17,000,000 women in the nation's industrial plants, in the opinion of Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

"We know well have to triple the number of people we have in our defense plants," said the national draft head. "There is no other possible way that we can obtain them than by hiring a far greater number of women."

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 — The barrier between the fiery temperament of the Latin and Teuton heart of the blond Aryans was never whittled down by the intervening years of pact and handshake. On the contrary, it seemed to widen to proportion at times amounting to open friction.

Mussolini's more rapid drift into the tide and flow of Hitlerian dictation caused cabinet shakeups in Rome and murmurs around Italy which came echoing to our ears as far away as Berlin, but all observers agreed that things had changed from the 1934 days in Venice, when Hitler and Mussolini had a talk which failed, and that now Hitler was in the saddle and Mussolini running alongside him on horseback.

A lot of Italians with axes to grind came back from periodic visits home in those years and blamed the whole Mussolini debacle on the laughing girl of the dull blond hair he fell deeply in love with, from that day on to spend his money on her.

When he ran into a wall, Hitler said nothing for months and never lifted a finger to help him, finally to have Mussolini come begging to Berlin early in 1941 for some way out of the impasse. That did the trick and from then on Mussolini was just another abject pup.

Hitler Addresses Reichstag In Ninth Anniversary Of His Rise To Power

SOVIET IS DISCUSSED

England Was Defeated In 1940; Japan's Entry In Strife Praised

This dispatch was sent from an enemy country, whose motive in releasing news is likely to be propaganda. Axis claims should be credited only when confirmed by American or Allied sources.

BERLIN, Jan. 30—(By Official German Wireless)—Adolf Hitler addressed the German Reichstag and the nation on the ninth anniversary of his rise to power today, but failed to promise victory this year.

"I do not know," he said in the course of his extremely lengthy oration, "whether the war will end this year."

Hitler covered the whole course of history from the middle ages until the present time, claimed to have defeated England in 1940, and praised Japan's entry into the war.

In Russia, he said, the Russians have advanced only a few kilometers at a great cost in men and materials "but in a few weeks winter will break in the south and the ice will melt and the hour will come when the ground will be hard and firm again and our armies will storm ahead again."

"It was not easy to change our tactics in the east and to fight in the bitter cold," he said.

"When this difficult change became necessary, I regarded it again as my task to assume personal responsibility."

(Editor's Note: This was an obvious admission by Hitler that he had never planned a winter war in Russia and had hoped to subdue the Soviet Union within a few weeks or months after his attack in June, 1941.)

To Avenge Others

"Our armies," he continued, "will avenge those who have become victims of frost, because I can tell you that the soldier at the front knows his superiority."

If the Russians are not able to occupy some of the villages, they are no longer villages, just heaps of ruins. What does that mean in comparison to our own successes?"

Hitler thanked the German people for giving up even their "val-

Further instructions to local tire rationing boards were released Friday by Judge Meeker Terwilliger, county tire rationing coordinator.

Boards do not have to issue a separate certificate for each tire or tube when more than one are to be issued to one party, Judge Terwilliger said.

The communiqué said that Indian troops covering Bengazi were compelled to give ground and were withdrawn to points northwest of the town.

"It now appears," said the communiqué, "that the enemy force which advanced on Bengazi from the south on Wednesday consisted of two strong columns, both including tanks.

"Deploying greatly superior strength in this area, the enemy passed forward. Our seventh Indian brigade, although fighting a rearguard action with courage, was forced to give ground.

"Meantime, to the east of the escarpment an even stronger enemy force which on Wednesday reached Regima also pressed on and by nightfall established itself across the coast road north of Bengazi.

"These converging attacks by greatly superior enemy forces made further withdrawal of our troops inevitable and the fourth Indian division covering Bengazi has now been withdrawn northward of the town.

"In the Msus area where a substantial enemy force including tanks remains, enemy detachments patrolling to the northeast withdrew upon making contacts with our patrols.

"Our fighters continued successfully to give protection to our troops."

BACH RESIDENCE ROOF DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Discovery of a fire at the Carl Bach residence on Route 56 west of Circleville Friday night about 8 o'clock prevented serious damage, although flames destroyed a portion of the roof.

The fire was discovered by C. E. Hill, Williamsport, a passenger, who notified the Bach household that the roof of the house was burning. The rural fire truck was called, but the fire was nearly out when Chief Palmer Wise arrived.

BENGAZI PORT ORDERS ISSUED AREA GIVEN UP TO TIRE BOARDS TO NAZI FORCE IN COUNTY AREA

CAIRO, Jan. 30 — Evacuation of British forces from the strategic Cyrenaican port of Bengazi in the face of numerically superior axis units was announced by the British middle eastern command.

Boards do not have to issue a separate certificate for each tire or tube when more than one are to be issued to one party, Judge Terwilliger said.

Although ministers are eligible for tires under certain conditions, Judge Terwilliger asked that tires not be issued until official notices have been received from the Ohio State Council for Defense.

Bear trucks used for deliveries to wholesale and retail outlets are eligible under the classification "finished products". Trailers used by farmers to haul produce to market are eligible, but passenger cars used to haul them are not, nor are passenger cars rigged up to haul produce eligible.

Judge Terwilliger said the county tire rationing council probably would meet next week to consider the distribution of the county's February quota.

Boy Scouts Of District To Aid Defense Effort

135 Youngsters Will Be Available For Any Type Of Service

TWO TROOPS PENDING

Perry P.T.A., Ashville Churches Planning To Form Groups

Community's 135 Boy Scouts and nine scoutmasters will join hands with the local defense units in a new streamlined scouting program designed to assist Circleville and Pickaway county in the war effort.

The new program was announced Friday by Executive Robert Scanland following the annual meeting of the Central Ohio Area council held in Columbus at which time the all-out scout aid program was proposed by C. A. Jones, area president.

Circleville and Pickaway county already have been divided into service areas where local scout troops will serve as collection and distribution agencies for information connected with the defense program.

The city has been divided into three service areas. Troop 158 of the American Legion will work in the area south of Mill street. Troop 205 of the First Presbyterian church will function in the district between Mill street and Main street and Troop 107 of the First Methodist church will service the city north of Main street.

The six troops of the county will service the communities in which they are located. Local defense councils or other defense agencies may feel free to call on the troops in their communities at any time for any sort of emergency service. Scanland said.

To supplement the new defense program of the Boy Scouts every scoutmaster in the city and county has been mailed a "War Service Manual" which contains suggested programs and defense training for scouts for the next six months. Weekly defense classes are being planned for each scout troop. Classes will start the week of February 8 and will continue for 24 sessions. The three main defense functions for which scouts will be trained will be as messengers, assistants to medical units, and fire watchmen.

Scouts who complete their training courses will be given Civilian Defense arm bands which will pass them through police and fire lines.

Two additional troops are being considered for Pickaway county. The Perry township Parent-Teachers association already has agreed to sponsor a troop, which will be organized at a meeting next Thursday night. There will be about 16 boys in the troop. The three churches of Ashville, the Methodist, United Brethren and the Lutheran, are considering the reestablishment of a Scout troop in the Ashville community and the troop may be set up in the near future.

CIO ASKS ARMY TO ASSUME JOB AT PLANE FIRM

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30—Demands that the U. S. Navy and Army seize the Port Columbus Curtiss-Wright warplane plant "to get production going" were made today by officials of the CIO's United Automobile Workers Union. They said the management had refused to meet union representatives over the discharge of three union stewards.

In telegrams to the navy and war departments, Nicholas Dragon, assistant director of the aviation division of the union, asserted:

"The discharge of three union stewards by Curtiss-Wright Corporation in Columbus and their refusal to meet union representatives has made conditions in the plant highly explosive. There seems to be a deliberate attempt to sabotage morale of the workers in the plant."

"Local 927, UAW-CIO, demands that the U. S. Navy and U. S. Army seize the plant to get production going. We have submitted valuable evidence in insidious sabotage to proper army officials."

Troop 205 of the First Presbyterian church will function in the district between Mill street and Main street and Troop 107 of the First Methodist church will service the city north of Main street.

The six troops of the county will service the communities in which they are located. Local defense councils or other defense agencies may feel free to call on the troops in their communities at any time for any sort of emergency service. Scanland said.

To supplement the new defense program of the Boy Scouts every scoutmaster in the city and county has been mailed a "War Service Manual" which contains suggested programs and defense training for scouts for the next six months. Weekly defense classes are being planned for each scout troop. Classes will start the week of February 8 and will continue for 24 sessions. The three main defense functions for which scouts will be trained will be as messengers, assistants to medical units, and fire watchers.

Scouts who complete their training courses will be given Civilian Defense arm bands which will pass them through police and fire lines.

Two additional troops are being considered for Pickaway county. The Perry township Parent-Teachers association already has agreed to sponsor a troop, which will be organized at a meeting next Thursday night. There will be about 16 boys in the troop. The three churches of Ashville, the Methodist, United Brethren and the Lutheran, are considering the reestablishment of a Scout troop in the Ashville community and the troop may be set up in the near future.

CIO ASKS ARMY TO ASSUME JOB AT PLANE FIRM

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30—Demands that the U. S. Navy and Army seize the Port Columbus Curtiss-Wright warplane plant "to get production going" were made today by officials of the CIO's United Automobile Workers Union. They said the management had refused to meet union representatives over the discharge of three union stewards.

In telegrams to the navy and war departments, Nicholas Dragon, assistant director of the aviation division of the union, asserted:

"The discharge of three union stewards by Curtiss-Wright Corporation in Columbus and their refusal to meet union representatives has made conditions in the plant highly explosive. There seems to be a deliberate attempt to sabotage morale of the workers in the plant."

"Local 827, UAW-CIO, demands that the U. S. Navy and U. S. Army seize the plant to get production going. We have submitted valuable evidence in insidious sabotage to proper army officials."

The Columbus WPA orchestra composed of sixteen members is dispensing its wares out at the school auditorium this afternoon and the usual sizable attendance is proof that these concerts are enjoyed by the villagers. The township schools, South Bloomfield and Duvall, share in these musical programs, being a part of the several schools visited.

Contacted Thursday evening, Frank Grice who had just returned from Grant hospital where his daughter, Mrs. Boyd Hines, had had a recent major operation. Said she is "slowly improving." Leroy McDonald who suffered a severe heart attack a few days ago is not making much improvement according to word direct from the home.

The second batch of two hundred federal auto tax stamps was put on sale Thursday by Postmaster Smith at 7 o'clock and business was really brisk for the two hours it lasted. All out and gone but another lot will be in soon—maybe.

Up at the North county line at the new airplane field, there is plenty doing now among the farm people whose places of residence for these years must be abandoned quite soon. Among the chattel farm sales to be held there, is that of Walter Wright, advertised for Tuesday, February 3. It is a "complete close out sale." Other not far distant sales are January 31, February 6, February 7 and February 10.

William (Peck) Wilson, carpenter-builder, is "flat-down" in bed at his home in South Bloomfield, with a strong case of the grippe. The nice, new porch he is building at the Beatrice Schiff dwelling, known as the Messick place, will have to wait a few days till Peck is able to go again.

The 1941 toll showed an increase of 5 percent, or 4,600 lives, the council said. Last year's death rate per 100,000 population was 76.2 and the increase was due to traffic and occupational accidents. Accidental deaths in the home and in public places, exclusive of traffic accidents, showed a decrease.

Increased activity in all fields—largely attributed to the ever-increasing tempo of national defense—was the key to the greater accident toll, the council said. The 1941 accident toll among men in the expanded selective service age bracket, (20 to 45) was 26,000—equal to the destruction of almost two full army divisions.

Approximately 18,000 workers were killed by occupational accidents. An additional 29,000 were killed in off-the-job accidents. This loss of manpower, according to the report, represented labor sufficient to build 20 battleships, 200 destroyers and 7,000 heavy bombers.

Death from falls were about the same in 1941 as in 1940—approximately 26,000 each year. Deaths from burns in 1941 were approximately 6,900 and from drownings 7,000.

Nature is slow, too. An Ohio farmer says it takes as long to get a new cow into production as it does a new bombing plane.

Hitler's government by intuition seems lately to be more like government by assassination.

The discharge of three union stewards by Curtiss-Wright Corporation in Columbus and their refusal to meet union representatives has made conditions in the plant highly explosive. There seems to be a deliberate attempt to sabotage morale of the workers in the plant.

"Local 827, UAW-CIO, demands that the U. S. Navy and U. S. Army seize the plant to get production going. We have submitted valuable evidence in insidious sabotage to proper army officials."

Patterson's Plea Put Over Knudsen As Lieutenant General; Story Told

By DREW PEARSON
AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Senator Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina, newlywed chairman of the Military Affairs committee, only told part of the story in announcing the "unanimous" approval of William Knudsen's appointment as a lieutenant general.

There was no unanimity when the committee began considering the matter behind closed doors.

One senator did some furious objecting before he was finally calmed down and persuaded to be unanimous.

The dissenter was isolationist Senator Rufus Holman of Oregon, who put Under Secretary of War Robert Patterson through stiff grilling on the ex-OPM director's "fitness" for the high military rank.

"I'm against these 'jump' promotions of civilians in the armed services," snorted Holman. "Knudsen has no military qualifications. He didn't come up through the ranks like other officers. What will his job be?"

"He will be assigned to speed up production on Army contracts," replied Patterson calmly. "I suppose you might call him my chief of staff."

"Will he have any military command or authority?" persisted Holman.

"No, sir, he will serve in a civilian capacity."

"Well, why give him this high military rank then, if he's to have civilian duties?" snapped Holman with a triumphant air.

"You're getting on rather delicate ground, Senator," smiled Patterson. "My best answer would be that Mr. Knudsen will be dealing directly with Army officers, acting as inspectors and in other capacities in war industries, and he will command more respect, and probably get better cooperation, if he's wearing a uniform."

"You know, Senator," Patterson added slyly, "most officers don't like to take orders from a civilian."

"Who will be Mr. Knudsen's immediate superior officer?" demanded Holman.

"I will, Senator," said Patterson. "It's to be a purely civilian arrangement, except that we need a man of Mr. Knudsen's genius to keep plants with Army contracts humming at top speed. We feel he can do the job better if he has a general's rank. I might add that Mr. Knudsen feels the same way."

Repeal In Rio

The day before the Pan-American conference opened in Rio, the State Department in Washington published a new supplement to the Latin-American anti-Nazi blacklist. Most of the 56-page document consisted of new names, but the last page was a list of deletions—firms formerly blacklisted and now restored to good standing.

Under "Brazil," were the names of four firms which had the word "Cervejaria" as part of their title. "Cervejaria" is brewery in Portuguese and the deletions meant that Brazil's four leading breweries were being removed from the proscribed list.

This action was taken on January 14. The conference opened January 15.

In this final bitter fight, two Alabama Democrats and a Michigan Republican were responsible for the retention of the gravy-train provision. They were Senator John H. Bankhead and Representative Henry B. Steagall of Alabama, and Representative Jesse P. Wolcott of Michigan.

As the amendment originated in the Senate, under the rules, it was necessary for the House conferees to propose deletion. Steagall, chairman of the House group, publicly makes a great show of being a red hot Administrationite. WOMAN ADMITS GIVING AID TO NAZI HUSBAND

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30—Maintaining that she "did everything without any knowledge that it would hurt the United States," a 31-year-old Kansas woman, held on espionage charges, today declared that her German doctor-husband had sent military information to Germany over a period of years as a paid Nazi agent.

The woman, Frances Goelert Gros, film cartoonist, along with her husband, Dr. Hans Helmut Gros, the Albrecht Rudolph Curt Reuter, were arrested as suspected Nazi spies and held in lieu of $5,000 bail pending a hearing February 12.

Mrs. Gros, a native of Colby, Kans., declared that her husband induced her to aid him in sending military information to the Reich because his mother in Germany would be mistreated by the Gestapo if he failed in his mission in the United States.

"I told my husband that I loved my country and would not help him in what he was doing if it would damage the United States," the woman said. "He assured me that Germany wanted the information only for its information files and it would not endanger my country. Even then all the help I gave him was to clip some papers for him to send to Germany."

She said that Dr. Gros was well paid for his work and that he worked in close collaboration with George Gyssling, German consul at Los Angeles who was deported in the nationwide cleanout of axis consular agents.

Backed by Wolcott, who fought the vital war bill from the start, and with Bankhead running interference in the State group, Steagall forced the retention of the provision.

Naval officials said that a squadron of the blimps has already joined the search and that others will be used as soon as possible.

Scores of other ships and planes have been patrolling the coastal waters for the last three days since a submarine, presumably an enemy craft, was sighted 15 miles off Port Arthur, Texas, by a naval patrol plane out of Corpus Christi. The sub was spotted early Wednesday.

Farmers, which include livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers, poultry raisers, and operators of plantations and ranches, are liable for Federal income-tax returns provided their income is sufficient to require the filing of returns. Primarily, due to the reduction in the credit for personal exemption many farmers will be liable for returns and the tax for the first time for the year 1941.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed.

If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses," is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040. Use of Form 1040F is optional in the case of farmers who report income on the accrual basis.

A farmer who reports income on the cash receipts and disbursements basis (in which no inventories to determine profits are used) must include in gross income for the taxable year (1) the amount of cash or the value of merchandise on other property received during the taxable year from the sale of livestock or produce which were raised, regardless of when raised; (2) the profits from the sale of any livestock or other items which were purchased; and (3) gross income from all other sources.

Under the accrual basis in which inventories are used to determine the profits, farmers' gross profits are ascertained by adding to the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the end of the year the amount received from the sale of livestock and produce, and miscellaneous receipts of income during the year, and deducting from this sum the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the beginning of the year and the cost of livestock and produce purchased during the year. All livestock, whether purchased or raised, must be included in inventory at their proper valuation. Livestock acquired for draft breeding, or dairy purposes and not for sale, may be included in the inventory instead of being treated as capital assets subject to depreciation, provided such practice is consistently followed.

If farm produce is exchanged for merchandise, groceries, or the like, the market value of the articles received in exchange is to be included in gross income. The value of farm products which are produced by a farmer and consumed by his family does not constitute taxable income. Rents received in crop shares are to be returned as income as of the year in which the crop shares are reduced to money of the equivalent of money. Proceeds of insurance, such as hail and fire insurance on growing crops, are required to be included in gross income.

Amounts received as loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation may, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered as income and included in gross income for the taxable year in which received. The election made with respect to the calendar year 1939, or for the first year thereafter for which a return is required to be filed, is binding for all subsequent years unless the Commissioner approves a change to a different method of accounting. Amounts received under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the Price Adjustment Act of 1938, section 303 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and the Sugar Act of 1937 constitute taxable income to the recipients for Federal income-tax purposes.

Wickard is going to be very wary about using that gravy-train veto power the farm lobby voted him in the price control bill.

He knows that the White House is still sputtering over his unauthorized endorsement of this lobby scheme at a crucial moment in the Senate fight over the legislation. Also, that if he attempts to exercise the power he is liable to be slapped down even harder than when he fronted for the lobby.

Actually, under cover, Wickard has promised in effect to be a good boy.

It didn't leak out at the time, but during the secret deliberations of the joint Senate-House conference committee on the bill, he wrote the committee a letter repudiating his previous endorsement and saying he didn't want the veto power over farm prices.

Wickard wrote this letter under White House pressure. He knew he was in bad and he tried to square himself.

But for the Administration, the breakdown was too late. The damage had been done, for the amendment was in the bill and the lobby's pals on the joint committee were in a powerful position to stand pat.

In this final bitter fight, two Alabama Democrats and a Michigan Republican were responsible for the retention of the gravy-train provision. They were Senator John H. Bankhead and Representative Henry B. Steagall of Alabama, and Representative Jesse P. Wolcott of Michigan.

As the amendment originated in the Senate, under the rules, it was necessary for the House conferees to propose deletion. Steagall, chairman of the House group, publicly makes a great show of being a red hot Administrationite. But behind the closed doors of the committee room, he adamantly refused to heed Roosevelt's plea for

Stone's Grill to Have Opening Celebration Saturday

Above is a view of the remodeled Stone's grill which has been operating for the last four years in the Pickens building, South Court street.

The improvements make the grill one of central Ohio's most attractive. The grill's night club room was remodeled and redecorated a year ago.

A new floor of covered asphalt tile, a new 36 foot bar, a new back bar and a new display of wines which will hold 200 cases have been installed. In addition a new kitchen arrangement prevails.

The improvements make the grill one of central Ohio's most attractive. The grill's night club room was remodeled and redecorated a year ago.

Special entertainment is planned every Saturday night with an orchestra having part in festivities. Because of the reopening of the grill the event this week is a more important one, and Mr. Hempker pointed out Friday that every effort is being made to make the celebration a big one.

Naval officials said that a squadron of the blimps has already joined the search and that others will be used as soon as possible.

Scores of other ships and planes have been patrolling the coastal waters for the last three days since a submarine, presumably an enemy craft, was sighted 15 miles off Port Arkansas, Texas, by a naval patrol plane out of Corpus Christi. The sub was spotted early Wednesday.

Detailed information on the search was not made public.

Anyway, we learn quite a bit of geography from this war.

TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

GENTLEMEN: If any organization of the community is to become the center around which a majority of the activities focus, yours is the logical group, since it contains representatives from Circleville's businesses, industries, trades and professions, and since the primary purpose of your organization is the betterment of the Circleville community. Your self-criticism at your annual meeting indicated that you are not unaware of the faults of your organization. It also indicated that many of those faults may be corrected, if your members so desire it. You are bound to receive criticism no matter what sort of program you undertake. The only organizations which are not criticized by someone are those which do nothing. To place every member of the Chamber on a committee will put everyone to work and give him a voice in the management of the organization in which he is a member. That should help to strengthen any group.

And Uncle Sam may bust a lot of suspenders in the effort. For it is doubtful whether any nation, however great, rich and determined to change its natural resources in an overwhelming supply of fighting power, can spend so much and so fast for armament. With half of the world's production power, in theory, we may not be able to do it. As for the billions that dance so lightly on our tongues, all such sums and figures and emblems are merely chips in the big game. The actual war materials, the work and brains, the team-play required from this big nation and from the nations cooperating with us, these are the things that count. We can't buy victory, anyway. We must earn it—by sweat and thought and devotion and unfaltering will. Those 56 billions are not merely stuff dug out of the ground and shaped in factories. Two Methods

He might also have said that perhaps there are two ways of disposing of Adolf—by trouncing him and his Nazis into surrender or by making things so miserable for the generalities of Germans that they themselves will abolish him, with no necessity for further massacre from the outside.

The most appalling stories leak out from the Reich concerning the horrors of the Nazi campaign in Russia. Being shot's comparatively merciful, according to these accounts, but after a German is wounded, it's related, he usually dies from the cold; he's better off if shot dead, kerplunk, escaping subsequent hideous suffering from frost, until, at length, it finishes him, by degrees.

Furthermore, he doesn't have to be shot to freeze—his face and hands and feet, up to his hips, it's said. On an average he isn't warmly clad, and frostbite calls for just the right medication, which it seems the Germans aren't provided with, or, as the victim begins to thaw, he also begins to freeze.

There are tales of stretcher-bearers falling down in swoons, from the awful odor exuded by the frozen but still living Germans they're trying to bring in. Of course, there can't but be amputations galore.

I'm no competent guesser if this shouldn't be exceedingly demoralizing to a fighting force's morale, and to the morale of its folk back home, as arrivals are delivered there, to have frozen noses and ears and hands and legs chopped off—most of 'em, doubtless, predicted to die, anyway.

MOTORISTS: Beginning Sunday, February 1, all cars and trucks being operated on public highways must carry the federal auto use tax stamp. Because of the difficulty in getting a large supply of stamps at any one time, the postoffice department has found itself running out of stamps almost every day. The result is that many of you still have not received your stamps. Postmaster Hulse Hays has reported that the postoffice will not remain open any additional hours to sell stamps on Saturday, which means that local drivers must obtain their stamps before Saturday at 12:30 p. m. Don't wait until 12:29 p. m. Saturday to get yours.

BOOK LOVERS: To discontinue a service which is as valuable to the rural community as the county book truck is a serious matter. The book truck annually carries more than 90,000 volumes to our rural folk, our township schools, and the people in our county institutions. Three out of every five books which are sent out from the Circleville library are carried on the book truck. Last year the county book truck covered 11,859 miles and during the school months spent five days out of every week in the county. Without a doubt the rural schools will suffer from a book truck suspension most severely. Of course most of the local schools have libraries of their own, but all of them have found the book truck extremely helpful. I hope that soon something can be done to permit circulation of books in the rural areas.

DIET AND HEALTH

Nose Helpful in Influenza; Its Own Secretions Kill Germs

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE BEST antiseptic that you can put in your nose to kill off the germs of influenza is put there by Nature itself, and is formed by the secretions of the cells that line the nose.

This was the announcement made by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr.,

Dr. Cledenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

of the University of Michigan before the New York Academy of Medicine, December 1, 1941.

He collected nasal discharges from a number of people and found that they contained a substance, which in test tubes neutralized Type "A" influenza virus within an hour. When small quantities of this substance were injected into the noses of mice, it protected them completely against one thousand times doses of the influenza virus.

The protective substance is probably similar to the antibodies which circulate in the blood cells, once an attack of influenza is under way. They are Nature's influenza vaccine.

More Harm Than Good

Nearly all the substances which are used for nasal sprays, provided your nose is in a good state of health, do more harm than good.

Drs. Walsh and Cannon, in an article called "The Problems of Intranasal Medication," concluded the only safe medicaments for the healthy nose are weak solutions of salt water, or in the case of an established infection, weak solutions of drugs that constrict the vessels of the nose such as epinephrine and ephedrine.

New Development

This is a new development in a series of researches which have been recounted in this column for several years. In fact, we got into a good deal of trouble a few years ago by saying that not only the nasal secretions but also the saliva had great germicidal powers, and that you did not need to put substances in your nose which killed germs in a few minutes, because you already had such substances.

In fact, most of the antiseptics which are advertised to help the nose out, do more harm than good because they inhibit the natural germ-killing secretions of the mouth and nose.

As the nose specialists themselves admit, it took them a long time to get around to investigating the normal physiology of the nose. They were, for years, so much interested in the anatomy of the nose that they didn't bother to look at the nose itself.

EDITOR'S NOTE. Dr. Cledenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by mail. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents.

For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents and a stamped envelope with an envelope with a three-cent stamp to Dr.

Logan Cledenning, in care of this paper.

The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reduction in Weight," "Reducing and Controlling," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Of course, we know that sometimes the protective action of the nasal mucosa breaks down and influenza and the common cold and other respiratory infections gain a foothold.

Nature breaks down our immunity defenses in this way lots of times, but we are learning more and more how Nature works and learning to make her an ally instead of our enemy. "Let your nose alone" is a good health slogan if you happen to be tempted to reach for the atomizer bottle.

NAVY SECRETARY FRANK KNOX may be right in his belief that Herr Hitler's the enemy upon whom it behoves the United Nations to concentrate primarily—that the Japs and Italians will collapse forthwith, upon the defeat of Adolf and his Nazis.

That's the opinion he expressed in a talk before the National Conference of Mayors, recently in session in Washington.

Yes, perhaps he was correct.

Nevertheless, it was hardly to have been expected that, in pooh-poohing Japan, his judgment would be okayed with much unanimity by the Chinese, the Filipinos, the British at Singapore, the East Indian Dutch, the Australians and New Zealanders, or even by our own west coastal folk or by Latin Americans on the Pacific slope, from the Mexican line on down to the southerly tip of Chile.

It wasn't so okay by 'em, either. Their reactions to that speech of Frank's have been coming into Washington ever since he addressed the mayors, and if any of 'em have endorsed his view, I haven't heard 'em, but there are plenty to the opposite effect.

Some members of your group have assisted with the Red Cross, the Infantile Paralysis drive, the Defense Stamp and Bond sale, the Victory Book campaign and a number of other projects within the last couple of months. Not only do you offer your services cheerfully, but you can be depended on to complete any job you start with efficiency and a minimum of fanfare. Certainly the Circleville community should be thankful that it has such an organization as the Girl Scouts.

TO LIBRARY USERS

BOOK LOVERS: To discontinue a service which is as valuable to the rural community as the county book truck is a serious matter. The book truck annually carries more than 90,000 volumes to our rural folk, our township schools, and the people in our county institutions. Three out of every five books which are sent out from the Circleville library are carried on the book truck. Last year the county book truck covered 11,859 miles and during the school months spent five days out of every week in the county. Without a doubt the rural schools will suffer from a book truck suspension most severely. Of course most of the local schools have libraries of their own, but all of them have found the book truck extremely helpful. I hope that soon something can be done to permit circulation of books in the rural areas.

TO SERVICE DEPARTMENT

OFFICIALS: There are several 'canyons' forming in Court street, and I'd suggest that something be done about them as soon as possible. The 'canyons' are in the form of sinks in the pavement. With increasing traffic going over this highway the condition may become serious. You might solicit aid of the state highway department since this is a military route.

Nose Helpful in Influenza; Its Own Secretions Kill Germs

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE BEST antiseptic that you can put in your nose to kill off the germs of influenza is put there by Nature itself, and is formed by the secretions of the cells that line the nose.

This was the announcement made by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr.,

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

of the University of Michigan before the New York Academy of Medicine, December 1, 1941.

He collected nasal discharges from a number of people and found that they contained a substance, which in test tubes neutralized Type "A" influenza virus within an hour. When small quantities of this substance were injected into the noses of mice, it protected them completely against one thousand times doses of the influenza virus.

The protective substance is probably similar to the antibodies which circulate in the blood cells, once an attack of influenza is under way. They are Nature's influenza vaccine.

More Harm Than Good

Nearly all the substances which are used for nasal sprays, provided your nose is in a good state of health, do more harm than good. Drs. Walsh and Cannon, in an article called "The Problems of Intranasal Medication," concluded the only safe medicaments for the healthy nose are weak solutions of salt water, or in the case of an established infection, weak solutions of drugs that constrict the vessels of the nose such as epinephrine and ephedrine.

New Development

This is a new development in a series of researches which have been recounted in this column for several years. In fact, we got into a good deal of trouble a few years ago by saying that not only the nasal secretions but also the saliva had great germicidal powers, and that you did not need to put substances in your nose which killed germs in a few minutes, because you already had such substances.

In fact, most of the antiseptics which are advertised to help the nose out, do more harm than good because they inhibit the natural germ-killing secretions of the mouth and nose.

As the nose specialists themselves admit, it took them a long time to get around to investigating the normal physiology of the nose. They were, for years, so much interested in the anatomy of the nose that how about Japan?

It's been an obvious mistake to consider the Japs as German puppets. They took advantage of the Occident's preoccupation with its own troubles to launch their Asiatic and southwesterly Pacific campaign, but they did it independently, and their geographical advantage is very material.

Japan May Keep On

Even assuming Germany's and Italy's elimination, they're liable to be able to keep up a tiresomely long war.

They're so far off that they'll be more difficult than Germany and a lot more difficult than Italy to overrun. And they haven't got a mere Hitler or Mussolini to extirpate; they've got a whole military class, running into millions in personnel, to be exterminated—and it's a crazier fighting class than all the Nazis, Fascists and Falangists combined.

Italians aren't particularly suicidal. Germans are somewhat so, but nothing to compare with the Japanese Samurai. Those boys would just as soon commit harakiri as eat chop-suey.

And, in the meantime, the Chinese, the Filipinos, the Singapore aggregation, the Dutch East Indians, the Australasians, the Hawaiians, the Alaskans, the western Canadians and the rest of our Pacific coastal western hemisphere are due to find themselves on a hot spot. No wonder they don't enjoy having Secretary Knox tell 'em that the Japs are of no consequence.

Four Hundred Take Part In F. D.'s Birthday Ball

Music And Games Win Attention At Hall

Informally prevailed at the Circleville celebration the President's birthday anniversary Thursday in Memorial hall, more than 400 gathering for the evening of dancing and games. The fine music of Bob Milo's orchestra kept the dance floor filled during the evening, the featured piano playing of Carl Hunn, together with his vocalizing adding greatly to the entertainment.

The impressively simple decorations of the hall centered around a large American flag on one side of the stage and a V for victory emblem on the other. The design for the victory emblem was developed by Miss Ruth Glenn according to plans made by Fred Clark, chairman of the Birthday Ball, assisted by Lee Shaner.

The throng of dancers included visitors from Columbus, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Waverly, Williamsport, Ashville and Kingston as well as those from this community.

More than 80 participated in the entertainment of the games room where many prizes were awarded. Mrs. Orion King was chairman of this project and was assisted by Mrs. Tom Lake, Mrs. J. C. Rader, Mrs. Will Mack, Mrs. Doyle Haas, Mrs. Joe Burns, Mrs. Tom Gilliland, Mrs. William Hegle Sr., Mrs. Charles Gusman, Miss Florence Dunton and Miss Marie Morehauser. From this evening entertainment, $34.70 was cleared for the fund to fight infantile paralysis.

Throughout the evening, a steady file of patrons entered the booth where Princess Juanita, in three-minute readings, foretold the future and answered questions. Mrs. Charles Smith, Miss Bessie Yates and Miss Dunton were in charge of this feature, which cleared $18.75 for fund.

Sandwiches and soft drinks were sold at the lunch counter in charge of the American Legion auxiliary, the rationed quota of Coca-Cola being exhausted early in the evening.

Judge Lemuel Weldon, Robert G. Colville, Dr. D. V. Courtright, Delos Marcy and John Hegle were members of Mr. Clark's assisting committee.

Late in the evening Mr. Clark discussed the purpose of the celebration and gave details of accomplishments in the care of those afflicted with infantile paralysis.

The Boy Scouts through sale of emblems added $1.15 to the fund; the girls with their wishing wells cleared $4.30 and the check room cleared $20.14. The ticket sale for the dance amounted to $151.50 from which expenses are to be paid.

ADOLF ADMITS WAR MIGHT NOT END THIS YEAR

usable furs" to help clothe the soldiers on the Russian front.

England, Hitler said, has been a "war-monger" for 300 years, building up her empire by subjugating other nations.

Hitler was introduced by Propaganda Minister Goebbels, who said that the Reichstag was "glad to see the Fuehrer so happy among us."

Britain wanted a Europe divided among itself, Hitler said, and therefore conducted what he termed a "war against war."

But the British would acknowledge no change in society," he added. "They wanted that the rich should remain rich and the poor remain poor."

"We national socialists, however, hold that life is the survival of the fittest, and that what is ripe for death should not be preserved."

The "forces responsible for the last war" started the present one as well, Hitler said.

"The only exception to these forces, I am proud to say, are Germany, Japan, Italy and their allies," he said.

Germany was on the point of winning the last war, Hitler went on, but traitors within the Reich "broke the German might." Once again he talked of Germany being a great empire at a time when England was nothing but "a little green island" and he proceeded through the usual attacks on the late President Wilson as a breaker of promises.

He added the new observation, however, that President Roosevelt was Wilson's "right hand" in all these affairs.

Mussolini Bitterly Attacked

They even cursed Mussolini in such moments without looking carefully around, and claimed that the Italian people on the whole have lost faith in him. He is, they vehemently declare, completely washed up, held to Hitler by steel handcuffs politely known as the Berlin-Rome Axis. He is, as Churchill aptly described it in his speech to Congress during the December visit to North America, merely a utensil of Hitler.

It was understandable, therefore, to go past the gaudy red and white Italian Embassy across from the Tiergarten last November and suddenly hear an agitated Italian voice shouting in broken German: "Get out of here, get out! Call your dirty police, but get out!"

Those of us passing by paused on the snow-covered sidewalk and watched two husky Italian Embassy porters toss an equally husky and square-headed German out on his ear. He landed in the snow with a sort of enraged howl, while the heavy door with its coat-of-arms shut tight.

I gathered the Italian in charge of the visa section was one of those whose cup of bitterness was full to the brim, and needed only the right push to spill it out with a vengeance. This German, who stood in characteristic Prussian stubbornness on the sidewalk now and yelled for the police, had marched in with arrogant eye and laid down a request for an immediate visa to Italy before the Italian official.

Refused to Await Turn

It seems he was politely told to turn his back, as others were waiting. He glanced at the menials on the chairs obviously not German and informed the official his business was urgent and his time short. He even produced a Nazi Party pass. The impression he conveyed in displaying it was that he should be handled with deference, as befitting in dealings between the master and the slave. That is the way these Nazis act when up in the saddle.

The Italian official, getting madder and madder, ended the acrid argument which ensued by risking career and job and having the obnoxious Nazi tossed out on his ear. On that day and for weeks afterwards, he was without doubt a very popular man in the Embassy and around the Italian

•NEED FOR SCRAP IRON STRESSED BY WAR BOARD

Enough Material On Farm Lands To Build Many Battleships

300 TONS GATHERED

Boggs Points Out Duty Of Every Farmer To Help In War Effort

"There is enough scrap iron and steel on farms, if used together with other materials, to make more than twice as many battleships as there are in the whole world today," John G. Boggs, chairman of the county war board, declared Friday as he urged farmers to continue their program of selling their old scrap iron.

Already more than 300 tons of scrap iron have been collected from local farms. From the state as a whole, Mr. Boggs said, approximately 42,000 tons of scrap iron have been collected through the war boards, and soon it will see "active service" in the form of tanks, planes, ships, and other vital articles of war.

"We must realize that our scrap iron collection has just begun," the war board chairman emphasized, "and it is the patriotic duty of every farmer in Pickaway county to cooperate with the government by selling scrap metal that is lying idle in barns and fields."

Scrap iron collected from the farms is "food" for the nation's vital steel industry. It is used as a base ingredient in the production of new steel. An estimated 1½ million tons could be collected from American farms, according to agricultural officials in Washington.

Jesus Calls Four Disciples

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 1 is Matt. 4:18-22; Mark 1:16-20; Luke 5:1-11, the Golden Text being Mark 1:17, "Come ye after Me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.")

THERE ARE two distinct accounts of the calling of four disciples by Jesus, which is the story of today's lesson. St. Matthew tells us that Jesus, walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew, casting their net into the sea, for they were fishers.

"And He said unto them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they straightway left their nets and followed Him."

Going on from that place, Jesus saw James, son of Zebedee, and his brother, John, with their father in their boat; and He called them, and they immediately left their father and the boat and followed Him. St. Mark tells the story approximately the same way, but St. Luke relates that Jesus "stood by the lake of Gennesaret, and saw two ships standing by the lake, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. And He entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And He sat down, and taught the people out of the ship."

When Jesus stopped speaking to the people, he told Simon to launch out into deep water and let down the nets. Simon demurred, saying, "Master, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing. Nevertheless, at Thy word I will let down the net."

Jesus Man of Authority

We are apt to think of Jesus as a gentle man, because He was so full of love and sympathy, but He must have also been a man of great authority, because when He issued an order, albeit in quiet tones, He always was obeyed. So Simon let the net down into the deep water, although it was customary to fish in shallow, and also although he and his partners must have been very weary because they had been fishing all through the night.

NEED FOR SCRAP IRON STRESSED BY WAR BOARD

Enough Material On Farm Lands To Build Many Battleships

300 TONS GATHERED

Boggs Points Out Duty Of Every Farmer To Help In War Effort

"There is enough scrap iron and steel on farms, if used together with other materials, to make more than twice as many battleships as there are in the whole world today," John G. Boggs, chairman of the county war board, declared Friday as he urged farmers to continue their program of selling their old scrap iron.

Already more than 300 tons of scrap iron have been collected from local farms. From the state as a whole, Mr. Boggs said, approximately 42,000 tons of scrap iron have been collected through the war boards, and soon it will see "active service" in the form of tanks, planes, ships, and other vital articles of war.

We must realize that our scrap iron collection has just begun," the war board chairman emphasized, "and it is the patriotic duty of every farmer in Pickaway county to cooperate with the government by selling scrap metal that is lying idle in barns and fields."

Scrap iron collected from the farms is "food" for the nation's vital steel industry. It is used as a base ingredient in the production of new steel. An estimated 1 1/2 million tons could be collected from American farms, according to agricultural officials in Washington.

Jesus Calls Four Disciples

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 1 is Matt. 4:18-22; Mark 1:16-20; Luke 5:1-11; the Golden Text being Mark 1:17, "Come ye after Me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.")

THERE ARE two distinct accounts of the calling of four disciples by Jesus, which is the story of today's lesson. St. Matthew tells us that Jesus, walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew, casting their net into the sea, for they were fishers.

And He said unto them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they straightway left their nets and followed Him.

Going on from that place, Jesus saw James, son of Zebedee, and his brother, John, with their father in their boat; and He called them, and they immediately left their father and the boat and followed Him. St. Mark tells the story approximately the same way, but St. Luke relates that Jesus "stood by the lake of Gennesaret, and saw two ships standing by the lake; but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. And He entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And He sat down, and taught the people out of the ship."

When Jesus stopped speaking to the people, he told Simon to launch out into deep water and let down the nets. Simon demurred, saying, "Master, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing. Nevertheless, at Thy word I will let down the net."

Jesus Man of Authority
We are apt to think of Jesus as a gentle man, because He was full of love and sympathy, but He must have also been a man of great authority, because, when He issued an order, albeit in quiet tones, He always was obeyed. So Simon let the net down into the deep water, although it was customary to fish in shallow, and also although he and his partners must have been very weary because they had been fishing all through the night.

THURSDAY, FEB. 12-- Starting at 10:30 A. M.

FARM SELLS PROMPTLY at 1 P. M.

Improvements:

Two-story eight-room, brick residence, with metal roof; new and modern barn, built from OSU Engineering School drawings, 36x60 with feeding sheds 20x40 and 20x36 attached; hog house 24x50 with cement floor; double corn crib, with tool shed attached, combined 36x50; new poultry house; etc. The buildings are substantial, adequate and but recently carefully and thoroughly repaired. Main barn was built less than two years ago; all buildings have excellent metal roofs. Electricity in all buildings. Nothing to spend on repairs or improvements; it's all done. Plenty of water; cisterns and wells; one of the best springs in Clinton County. Nearly 2,000 rods of new No. 9 woven wire fence, with best locust and steel posts, have been built in the last two years. New board fences around buildings. About 250 acres are level, highly productive and in rotation. Much land has been recently scientifically limed. Soil is of Miami and Sugartree loam varieties. At one end of farm is a large tract of young timber, much ready for market, mostly oak, walnut, ash and sugar. Buyers have been seeking this lumber for some time.

TERMS: $2,500.00 cash on day of sale, balance to be paid on delivery of deed. Purchaser will receive not only general warranty deed, but abstract of title back to the government. Possession will be given on or before March 1, 1942.

For Your Consideration:

This outstanding farm is exceptionally well located in a splendid farming community; directly on state highway, but two miles from a Federal interstate highway, north and south. Easy access to fine centralized schools, churches, markets and Wilmington College. School bus, rural mail delivery, milk truck at the door; telephone; electricity in every building. Only an hour's drive from Cincinnati, Dayton or Columbus, few minutes from Wilmington. Present owner has put this farm in perfect operating condition, has improved land and as evidence of productivity, some of the very best clover in Clinton County was grown on this farm in 1940 and 1941. 105 acres of new clover seedings; over 200 tons of lime were recently spread. Whole farm layout is for efficient operation; buildings almost in center of rotated land. Fields are laid out for efficient tractor operation.

Buy Farm Land now for security and sound investment. This is an ideal farm investment—good land, improvements all made therefore nothing to spend, very best fence all over farm, and the type farm that lends itself for both grain and livestock farming—the most profitable type.
